MODULE 2: GT Reading Section 2: Workplace Ergonomics & Training Policy

Passage 1:

Corporate Training & Professional Development Policy
BrightPath Financial actively fosters internal talent advancement through our Continuing Professional Development (CPD) programme. All permanent staff members who have concluded their six-month probationary period are eligible to apply for an annual professional educational subsidy of up to $2,500.
Qualifying programs must align directly with the employee's current occupational role or clear career trajectory within the corporate hierarchy. Approved courses include accredited industry certifications, university extension modules, and specialized data analysis bootcamps. Self-directed recreational courses (e.g. general language studies not required for business operations) do not qualify for company funding.
To receive reimbursement, candidates must submit a formal Learning Agreement endorsed by their department manager prior to course enrollment. Tuition fees are reimbursed in two equal tranches: 50% upon verified enrollment, and the remaining 50% upon presenting an official transcript demonstrating a passing grade. If an employee resigns within twelve months of receiving funding, the subsidy must be repaid in full.

Q1 Probationary employees are immediately eligible for the $2,500 education subsidy. (TRUE / FALSE / NOT GIVEN)

Q2 Employees may use the subsidy to take conversational Italian courses for leisure. (TRUE / FALSE / NOT GIVEN)
